Job Description: Medical Science Liaison (MSL)

Type: Full Time

Location: United States – Central

Date: Immediate

About Telix Pharmaceuticals Limited

Telix is an Australian public company (ASX: TLX) headquartered in Melbourne with international operations in Europe, the US and Japan. Our mission is to be a leading, global biopharmaceutical company that delivers on the promise of precision medicine through targeted radiation, and we are currently developing a portfolio of clinical-stage products that address significant unmet medical need in oncology and rare diseases.

About The Role

Reporting to the Medical Director – US, the MSL serves as a field-based clinical and medical expert for the business. The individual will be responsible for appropriately engaging in medical and scientific exchange and gaining insights in support of Telix Pharmaceuticals' products, research areas, and disease state of interest. Every day will be different! Responsibilities may include:

- Building professional peer-to-peer relationships with National, Regional, and Local key opinion leaders
- Identifying and communicating research gaps, opportunities, and field intelligence
- Attending medical/scientific meetings to represent Medical Affairs with KOLs and other HCPs
- Facilitating submission of Medical Educations grants and investigator-initiated Research
- Supporting cross-functional colleagues in appropriate activities

About You

You are an experienced MSL professional with an advanced scientific, healthcare, or medical degree (PharmD, PhD, MD, RN). You enjoy traveling (up to 75% of your working time) and have demonstrated ability to build productive collaborations with medical experts. You have a thorough understanding of regulations and practices guiding the pharmaceutical industry and thrive in a fast-paced, global environment. Previous experience within radiopharmaceutical and/or oncology will be highly regarded. Above all else, you are passionate about Telix's vision and mission.

Why Work at Telix?

We are a dynamic, fast-growing biopharmaceutical company based in Melbourne, Australia that is continuing to grow our team in the US. In addition to competitive salaries, we offer our US employees a comprehensive benefits package including a company-paid insurance supplement, yearly bonuses, 401k, and the opportunity to build equity in our organization. You will also be surrounded by an engaged and supportive team of colleagues who all have a shared purpose: to help people with cancer and rare diseases live longer, better quality lives.

Application deadline is Friday 1 April 2022.

Agency support is not required for this role and no submissions will be considered.
