About Telix Pharmaceuticals Limited

Telix is an Australian public company (ASX: TLX) headquartered in Melbourne with international operations in Europe, the US and Japan. Our mission is to be a leading, global biopharmaceutical company that delivers on the promise of precision medicine through targeted radiation, and we are currently developing a portfolio of clinical-stage products that address significant unmet medical need in oncology and rare diseases.

About The Role

This newly created opportunity will report directly to the Chief Governance and Risk Officer to support business owners to identify, analyse and document the key risks associated with achieving company objectives. The role will ideally be based at Telix's US headquarters in Fishers, Indiana or on the West Coast (LA). This is a high-visibility role and the incumbent will be tasked to advise, engage with, advocate to, coach, and support stakeholders at all levels in applying effective risk practice and generating appropriate risk behaviours. Key areas of responsibility include:

- Management of the Group's risk management framework, policies, processes and tools
- Management of the Group's risk management information system capability and maturity
- Delivery of the Group's agreed group risk assurance program
- Development of opportunities to build efficiencies and improve visibility of risk information that supports business decisions
- Ensure risk assessments, including those related to projects and change activities
- Provide timely and quality advice and guidance to business owners
- Develop risk indicators and identify potential trends or systemic issues

About You

You have experience in risk, continuous improvement coaching, facilitation and/or change management. You are a critical thinker with sophisticated written and oral literacy and can adapt strategy to changing external and internal drivers. You are courageous and comfortable speaking up, regardless of position, when things are wrong. Ideally, you also have experience in the pharmaceutical or manufacturing sectors.

Why work at Telix?

Telix is a dynamic, fast-growing biopharmaceutical company where employees have a shared purpose: to help people with cancer and rare diseases live longer, better quality lives. In addition to competitive salaries, we offer our US employees a comprehensive benefits package including a company-paid insurance supplement, yearly bonuses, 401k, and the opportunity to build equity in our organization. Growth and development is encouraged and supported by an engaged team. This is a genuine opportunity to be part of an organisation entering its next phase of maturity.

Agency support is not required for this role and no submissions will be considered.
